SEEN FROM THE MAST.

How a Camera Peeped Down an Ocean Liner's Funnel.

Two Pictures Showing the Contour of an Immense Steamer Under Full Head in Mid-ocean—Startling Photograph.

"Looking down the funnel" is an experience which few transatlantic passengers enjoy. Perhaps they would not enjoy it even if they were given the privilege of climbing the ladder and looking down the funnel of an ocean steamer making twenty miles an hour. Sailors race up and down the rope ladders for an after-breakfast constitutional and carry a bucket of tar along to add to their exercise when they have reached the top. It is easy enough for them, but if a landlubber should try it the chances are he would take an involuntary bath in nature's great swimming pool. A party of Chicago folks who recently made a trip across the ocean had as a part of their baggage a hand camera, and after making exposures on the various parts of the ship, they thought the series of pictures would be incomplete without a snapshot from aloft. The camera was first secured, and then a sailor was pressed into service. The mechanism of the camera was shown him, and he was told how to make the exposure. With the camera slung over his shoulder, he climbed the mainmast to the highest point, and then, waiting for a period of comparative calm, he pressed the button with the lens pointed toward the bow of the boat. Another exposure was made toward the stern of the ship and the camera was returned to its owner. The result was awaited with some misgiving, but the pictures more than justified the expectations. Here are the two pictures. Probably there are no counterparts in existence which show so well the contour of an ocean liner under full head in mid-ocean as viewed from the crosspiece of a mainmast.

A fast-going passenger ship of modern build is narrow and long. It is designed to cleave the water like a knife and to offer little resistance as possible to the waves. With the camera hanging from his shoulder, he climbed the mainmast to the highest point, and then, waiting for a period of comparative calm, he pressed the button with the lens pointed toward the bow of the boat. Another exposure was made toward the stern of the ship and the camera was returned to its owner. The result was awaited with some misgiving, but the pictures more than justified the expectations. ### A QUAIN OLD LIBRARIAN.

Stories of the Vatican and its Affiliations with the English Court.

The archaologist of fiction has a parchment skin and a dry eye, but his favorite folios. Mr. Carlin, first guardian of the Vatican library, was so much a man of flesh and blood that his sudden death the other day in Rome, attributed by some who knew him to the intense chagrin he suffered in consequence of the recent thefts from the bookshelves under his care, is not a likely tale, however; nor is the sensational hint of poison, though reproduced in a London paper, worth a moment's attention. Mr. Carlin, who recently died of a fit of apoplexy, which seized him in St. Peter's as he was washing his face, had been a Jesuit, and a general of the Italian revolution, who, nevertheless, sent his son to a Jesuit college in his native city, Palermo, Gen. Carlin, when in command at Perugia, made the acquaintance of Cardinal Peel, the archbishop there. Some playful words of the general as to his son's entering the service of the cardinal should be recalled. Mr. Carlin was recalled by Cardinal Peel after his elevation, and young Carlin was summoned to Rome and to a quite intimate friendship with the pope. And Carlin had another great friend in Crispi, who, indeed, has inserted in the official paper an expression of his paternal regard for the advent of the lengthened skirt.

LOOKING DOWN THE FUNNEL.

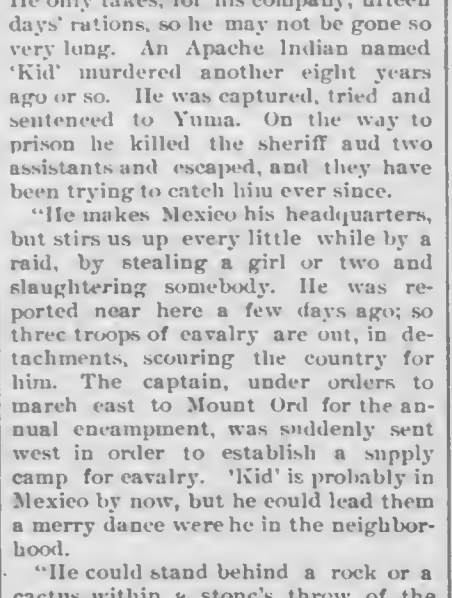

When the long dress comes the hair undergoes a change, but a dramatic change from that which takes place in the skirt. It is taken up high on the head, and the result is that a stranger would be at a loss to find out where the little girl of the day before was now. Don't be in a hurry to put on long dresses. Think of the years which you will have to wear them. Some time in the future you will look back with regret to the free and happy days of your girlhood, and will wonder how you could have been in a hurry to leave them for the cares of womanhood.

GRANDPA'S HEAD REST.

Simple and Plain Enough to Be Enjoyed by the Old Gentleman.

The duty head rests that have been so popular recently are often confined to the chairs that are least in use. Their daintiness and the difficulty in washing them make them distinctly ornamental instead of useful, and the "grandfather" would be likely to special-ize in a simple and plain head rest.

ly to them themselves, altogether too "fixed up" for his after-dinner nap in the rocking chair, but grandfather's head rest must be the pillow. One of his granddaughters might make him a simple but very pretty head rest like the one in the accompanying sketch.

A downy pillow is first made and covered just high enough to fit the special chair it is to hang upon. Then a pillow case of dainty gingham is made in fine stripes or plaids and in the daintiest colors obtainable, for it will wash like a pocket handkerchief, and so need not be one of those depressing colors that "won't show dirt."

HUNTING AN APACHE.

A Last Taken from Army Life in Western Territory.

The following is a part of a letter from a former Indian politician, the wife of an army officer, who is stationed at Fort Apache, Ariz., and it gives an idea of army life as it is found in those remote regions, says the Minneapolis Journal.

"The captain here has been here for a long time, and he is a very long. An Apache Indian named 'Kid' murdered another eight years ago or so. He was captured, tried and sentenced to Yuma. On the way to prison he killed the sheriff and two assistants and escaped, and they have been trying to catch him ever since."

THE FIRST LONG DRESS.

Most Important Event in the History of a Girl's Life.

It is a momentous day in the history of a girl's life when she puts on her first long dress. It is a much more important event than the putting on of her first pair of long trousers by a boy, for the boy is a boy still for some years afterwards, but from the time the girl don her first real long dress she is regarded as a woman.

She may have worn dresses that reached almost down to her shoe tops, but they were as youthful in appearance as the long dresses which she wore in childhood. But when an even all-round skirt is changed to the drapery of the dress worn by grown women, then we have no longer a young girl, but a young lady, pure and simple.

Miss Catherine West, a winsome and accomplished young lady, has been selected for the position of Miss of the year by the students of the University of Kentucky.

A lady walking on our streets passed a woman, who was leaning against a wall, and said: "There is no one here but me." It is not known whether she is in favor of free strikes.

Mrs. Hamilton, widow of the late George Hamilton, of Montgomery county, fell from a window near Athens in Fayette county, Friday night, and was killed.

The distilleries at Silver Creek have closed down for the summer. W. S. Hume & Co. produce about five thousand barrels of whisky, and Burnam, Bonnett & Co. about two thousand.

Not Money Enough.

Maj. Henry S. Hale, State Treasurer and candidate for Auditor, was in Richmond, court-day. He said the reason he desired to make the change, that the State did not keep money enough in the Treasury to please him. He is a spot cash man. He says the State has about $200,000 in bonds against the silver agitation in Kentucky.

Real Estate Sales.

James B. Stouffer bought the Jarman house on Main street, near R., at public sale for $2410. Two-story brick residence, old but in good condition.

Barney Kelly bought the Dr. Taylor storehouse on Second street, adjoining his two business houses, at public sale, for $2545. Barney seems to have made up his mind to own the entire square. Prices of real estate are very low.

Probable Division.

The contemplated division of the Episcopal Diocese of Kentucky has been consummated. Bishop Dudley would occupy the western division greatly to the regret of his numerous adherents in Central Kentucky. It is probable that Rev. W. C. McCready, of Newport, would be made Bishop of the eastern division. He is a able and eloquent man, and a son-in-law of Judge C. S. French, of Winchester, former Judge of the Common Pleas Court.

The 30th at Berea.

Decorative Day at Berea was a success. Not less than two thousand people present. Speeches by Capt. John Wilson, of East Kentucky, the hero of Lookout Mountain; J. T. Wood, of Virginia; Mrs. Carleton, President of Berea and others. The dinner included "hard tack" and coffee and was of all times of the year. Everybody's daily greeted everybody else with an unimpaired incident of the day. Graves of friend and foe were alike decorated.

Madison County Fair.

At a meeting of the Madison County Fair Association, held yesterday, Jacob W. Henson was elected President, J. W. Hales and T. J. Curtis, V. Pres. S. A. Henthorne Secretary, J. R. Chennault, Treasurer, T. T. Covington, T. S. Hagan, H. L. Colyer, J. B. Walker, W. H. Powers, Directors.

The delegates nominated on Saturday, in the various precincts, met in convention Monday and were called to order by J. W. Hales. A. T. Fish was elected secretary and H. C. Chase, Secretary. The motion of Prof. W. L. Wallace, one of the nominated candidates, Hon. John C. Chennault, was nominated by acclamation as Representative to the General Assembly, and a resolution recommending Hon. John Goodloe as State Senator to succeed himself was unanimously adopted.

At 2:30 p. m. contest between C. U. and Louisville athletic teams.

Mrs. Pickles' Rental.

The musical rental given by Mrs. Geo. W. Pickles, on Wednesday afternoon, at her lovely home on Third street, was an enjoyable occasion. The programme of seventeen beautiful selections was well arranged. First was a duet by Misses Clyde Talbot and Kattie French, who seemed to impart something of their own charming personality to the sweet strains.

A pleasing surprise to all was the selection, "The Great Composer," so well read by Miss Minnie Dykes. All the pupils played with skill and grace, and especially was this true in the case of Miss Lizzie Feeny, who was so fortunate as to secure a solo for concert.

Court Day.

Crowd usually large, but owing to the extreme heat many sought the shade and spent their time and money indulging in cooling drinks. The cattle offered were of medium quality and brought fair prices, which ranged from 21 to 34c. Horse and mule stock very scarce but in fair demand. An interview as to business among some of our enterprising firms gives the following results:

The Cyclone reports a fair trade.

New York Store, fair.

W. D. Oldham & Co., splendid.

J. B. Stouffer, first class.

W. C. & R. T. Hays, very good.

A. Fell, dull.

W. G. Collins, business good.

Thos. B. Collins, business fair.

Jack Freeman, dull.

Geo. Pickles, fair.

Thos. Karr, good.

E. E. McCann, reports trade a little better.

Claude Smith & Co., better than usual.

Covington & Mitchell, better than usual.

H. J. Streng, business better than last court day.

White & Gibson, better business.

B. L. Middleton, not so good.

Wallace & Rice, better than last June.

S. B. Douthett, better.

Van Dine, a good day.

George Willing, fairly good.

M. B. Arbuckle & Co., good.

Terry Hagan's drug store, very good.

Allen & Todd, no good.

Taylor Bros., fair.

Shackelford & Gentry, better trade.

Covington, Arnold & Bros., splendid business.

E. V. Elder, trade much better.

B. W. Turner, fine trade.

There is not a lady bicycle rider in Richmond.

Joe Clinebaker collided with a sharp rock and got a laceration in the front of his $100 Columbia.

John Arnold owned a high-grade, two months ago, but all the bike factories are far behind with orders, and he is yet afoot.

George Simmons sits as erect as the middle man in a minstrel troupe when he goes biking.

"When the race subsides, bicycles will be cheaper," remarked a thoughtful observer. But that same remark was made concerning typewriters fifteen years ago, and they are no cheaper now than then.

Forty-five thousand people assembled along the way in Chicago and vicinity to see Dwan's ride a twenty-mile race. The distance was covered in 55 minutes. In a single mile dash, Dwan's rate per mile would not be remarkable; but to run the entire twenty miles without stopping, and then over an ordinary road, is indeed wonderful. On a fine track a New York cyclist recently rode a single mile in less than two minutes, or at the rate of thirty miles an hour. That is good rail-road time.

The editor of the CLIMAX ran over to Winchester in 24 hours and returned in 2 hours and twenty minutes.

W. K. Nelson, of Silver Creek, came through Richmond, one day last week, on his way to Frankfort. He left home at 6 a. m. and reached Frankfort at 12, stopping half hour in Lexington. He is one of the fastest riders in the Blue grass. There are six or seven cycle agencies in Richmond.

Silver Creek has the two fastest riders in the county except Mitch who circled the Rockies two years ago.

The Fountain Terry cycle races at Louisville attracted great crowds and some records were broken.

Winchester will have interesting races July 4th. Madison will be represented. The boys must jump themselves or Charley Burnam, of Silver Creek, will bring home the medal. He is the colored phenomenon.

Democratic Convention.

BRANSON, Ky., June 1, 1895.

Pursuant to a call the Democratic Madison county, assembled at the court-house in Richmond, Ky., at 2 o'clock p. m., on June 1, 1895.

The meeting was called to order by J. W. Hales, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee. The programme of the convention was well arranged. First was a duet by Misses Clyde Talbot and Kattie French, who seemed to impart something of their own charming personality to the sweet strains.

Misses Phillips and Sue McRoberts, of Danville, are visiting Miss Julia Higgins.

Mr. James Rudolph, of Cincinnati, is here visiting D. P. Arner on business.

Mr. Sam Myers, of Illinois, a resident of Richmond, many years ago, is here for a short stay.

Misses Mylona, of Mayville, and Vault, of Versailles, are the guests of the Misses Harbor.

Mrs. Margaret Carr, of Paris, is visiting her son, Mr. F. B. Carr, the well known L. & N. agent this place.

Miss Mary Gentry attended the Bluegrass League oratorical contest at Harrodsburg Friday night.

Friends are glad to welcome home from Lexington Miss Mary Pickles and niece, little Mary D.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Porter, of Lexington, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Hagan, also Mrs. S. D. Porter, who is here for the summer.

Mr. Lowill, a student of Centre College, came up yesterday to stand a preliminary examination for the Naval Academy.

Col. Jack Gilbert was in town Monday doing on the boys as is his custom. They do say Jack can play chess like a professional.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howell, of Louisville, and Mrs. Wm. Rice, of Stanford, are guests of Mrs. Sarah McCollom on East Main street.

Banker J. Stone Walker has returned from Texas. Southwestern breezes and business evidently agreed with him as he gained 15 pounds en route.

Mr. Alex Bush, formerly a resident of Richmond, late of Hopkinsville, but now of Louisville, spent yesterday here. He is travelling for a shoe house.

Mr. W. Grant Berry, of Lexington, formerly a lively stage proprietor in this place, but for years a shoe drummer, was here, Saturday, taking orders.

Mayor and Mrs. T. T. Covington, accompanied by their visitors Misses Marie and Virginia Messer, took in the Fall Springs Excursion and report a nice time.

Frank Rice, Jr., cashier of the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Company, was in the city Saturday, and will spend some time with relatives in the county.

Mr. W. T. Richardson, of Junction City, has gone home having visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Richardson, this place. He formerly lived here and met many of his old friends.

Dr. J. L. Sutphin, a prominent dentist of Clarksville, Tennessee, was a guest over Sunday at Hotel Glyndon. He makes occasional tours through the Blue-grass, just for recreation.

Miss D. P. Arner arrived yesterday evening from Richmond, Ky., and will visit here with relatives. She has many friends here who will be glad to see her.—Breckinridge, Mo., Bulletin.

Miss Annie Pearson, a handsome and popular belle from Montgomery, Ala., is visiting her aunt Mrs. Dr. Kennedy. There are several young men threatened with palpitation of the heart.

Mr. Tim Stephenson returned from a year's sojourn on the Pacific slope and in the Southwest in search of health. When he reached Texas, he weighed 105 pounds. Now he pulls down 165 pounds.

Miss Minerva Williams, of Mt. Sterling, is the guest of her relative, Mrs. Will Oldham.

Miss Williams has many friends in Richmond, who are always glad to see her.

Chas. W. Miller, of Centre College, Louisville, is spending the summer days with his parents at Irvine. He will turn to Danville the latter part of this week and receive his diploma. He was the youngest of his class but received the highest marks. Charlie will be a matriculate of Yale College next year.

Hon. A. R. Burnam, a prominent citizen and leading attorney of Richmond, Kentucky, was in the city on Tuesday last on a business trip to North-west Missouri. While here he was called upon by J. L. Buford, J. C. Barkley and other, "Blue-grass" friends.—Chillicothe, Mo., Constitution.

Mrs. S. P. Walters entertained her Sunday School class of young ladies at tea last Thursday evening, at her home, University Place.

The young ladies were Misses Sarah Shackelford, Minna Wagner, Mary Letcher, Katherine Blanton and Lottie Crow. The gentlemen present were Messrs. Glass, Martin, Berry, Wallace and Lair.

Rev. C. W. Minor has completed his course of studies at the Theological Seminary in Louisville, and after spending a few days with friends here has gone for a month's stay in Macon, Ga. Mr. Minor is well known to many of our people, having had charge of the Waco Baptist church, once Republican. On his return here he will reside with Mr. and Mrs. James Rawlings on Moberly avenue.
